This image displays a collection of Danish postage stamps, primarily from the period 1944 to 1945. The stamps are arranged in rows and columns, showing a variety of designs and denominations. Many of the stamps are cancelled with a large 'X' mark, indicating they have been used.

The stamps feature several themes:

- Portraits: Several stamps depict portraits of historical figures, including King Christian IX (1870-1944) and King George V (1870-1945). Other stamps feature portraits of historical figures like Vitus Bering (1741-1804) and King Christian X (1904-1946).
- Historical Figures: Stamps with denominations of 15, 20, 40, and 60 are shown, some featuring historical figures like Vitus Bering.
- Architecture: Stamps with denominations of 10, 20, 30, and 40 are shown, some featuring architectural elements like a lighthouse.
- Denominations: The stamps have various denominations, including 6, 15, 20, 40, 60, 100, and 1. Some stamps are marked with '100' or '1000'.
- Postmarks: Some stamps have postmarks, including 'BEN 22', '100', '1000', and '1000'.
- Cancelled Stamps: Many stamps are cancelled with a large 'X' mark, indicating they have been used.

The stamps are arranged in rows and columns, with some cancelled with a large 'X' mark. The collection includes a variety of designs, including portraits, historical figures, and architectural elements. The stamps are primarily from the period 1944 to 1945.
